Sicknesses Declining Considerably in England

A Book Recently Issued Shows a Surprising Decrease in Sicknesses

As accurate estimate can be
while so many men are away
the fighting front, it would appear and the number of sicknesses
has decreased since the war.
A Blue Book has been issued containing the results of a collection for drunkards
over 1915.

A general decrease in the number of liquor offences in agricultural communities on the east coast has been noted. The number of sicknesses dropped 41.5 per cent,
"no treating" law undoubtedly aided in this reduction of intoxication. During the last months of 1915 there were only 12 convictions for violating the
"last" law as compared to 48,750
the first half of the year 1913.

Throughout the country the number of men were only 13,811 drunkards recorded, which is the lowest number for nearly twenty years. In 1913
26 per cent. below the total
1913. Of those convicted in 1915,
11 were women.

G. H. Hutton, Superintendent of Dominion Experimental Farm at

"At our farm," Mr. Hutcheson said, "we have experimented with wintering cattle in the open, with no other protection than that afforded by shells and hayracks. We have fed five cwt. of chaff in this and turned them off finished in January. The thermometer had been to fifty degrees below zero, and in some years we have gained 350 pounds per head in winter feeding. Two and three-year-olds we have had 420 pounds from May to February. We have covered the cattle with feeding for three years, and in cases greater gains were made in open."

Red Cross Night

To-morrow night—Red cross night at the Rex—will be the occasion of the greatest programme ever brought to town by the management of the popular theatre. The divine Sarah Bernhardt will appear in that greatest of all dramas "Jean Dore." This is a feature that you cannot afford to miss. Mrs. Graham is in charge of the music, as usual on Red Cross nights, and will sing "I Know I Got More Than My Share," and "Can't You Hear Me Callin'." Remember the Red Cross gets 30 per cent. of the admissions, on Thursday night—so help the good cause along.

The Ladies aid of the Presbyterian church are having a ten cent tea and sale of baking, candy, and aprons, along with other small articles, that may be seen in on Saturday from 3 to 6 o'clock, in the building adjoining the post office. This is instead of the usual anniversary dinner, which cannot be held this year on account of the basement of the church being out of repair; but if the ladies of the congregation will contribute to this as liberally as they would to the dinner, there is no reason why the funds should fall short of the usual sum at this date. So let all make a special effort to make this sale a success.

On Sunday January 28th, at 2.30 p. m., Rev. H. Asseff, of Lacombe, will hold a service at Brookfield school. A roll of names of the boys who have responded to their country's call will be unveiled. A collection will be taken in aid of the Red Cross.

Mrs. Annie Dickinson Burns, beloved wife of Mr. John Burns, died on Monday from pneumonia. The funeral will be held this afternoon from the residence of Mr. John Henderson, Lacombe. A particularly sad feature of Mrs. Burns' death is the fact that her husband is at present in England on duty with the 187th Battalion Recaptured a niece of Mr. Henderson.

St. John's Ambulance, Lacombe Branch, has just received acknowledgement of the arrival of Christmas parcels from W. Leslie and Len Beatty. The parcels arrived in good order and were most acceptable. They wish to thank the Society for their thoughtful kindness.

The dance at Spruceville has been changed from Friday evening, 24th to Friday evening, Feb. 2nd.

"Three Weeks" Elmer Glynn's great play, will be the feature at the Rex on Saturday, Feb. 3. Have you read the too? See the play.

The latest addition to the stock at the Experimental Station, at Lacombe is the noted Holstein bull, "Prince Angus McWhitfield 9482." He has the latest testing two-year-old daughters in Canada, averaging in the 30, 000 test, 1487 lbs., milk and 975 lb. butter in 305 days.

An interesting account of the ley's last parliament meeting has been received too late this week, but will appear next issue.

Frank Mast, our genial express agent, is out after the big prize in the Edmonton Bulletin contest, and will appreciate your assistance. Put him at the top of the list.

The first annual meeting of the St. John's Ambulance association, will be held at Mrs. J. McNab's home on Friday evening January 26th, at 8 o'clock. Reports of the years work will be given, and a full attendance is requested.

The fool killer should get busy around here and see if he cannot stop the circulation of distressing rumors. On Saturday the town was lousy through the news and country that several of our boys were killed in France. If people would remember that there is no guess-work about reporting casualties, and that parents receive word before anyone else possibly can hear the news, they might cease to spread false alarms. It is an anxious enough time for all with dear ones at the front, and an example should be made of anyone spreading unfounded rumors of this nature.

We this week received a letter from R. T. Evered, who is doing his bit somewhere in France. He has been right through the heavy fighting, and so far so well. He asks to be remembered to his old friends.

January, 22, 1918.

Dear Sir—This is in acknowledgement of a prompt and satisfactory settlement of my loss by fire on the part of the Lacombe Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company, with which I carried a policy of insurance. The loss received prompt attention in regard to both adjustment and payment, and I have pleasure in recommending the company to all insurers.

Yours truly
E. A. McKinnon.

George Mason Has Died for Liberty

The first member of the Lacombe Platoon of the 151st Regiment to pay the supreme sacrifice for the world's freedom, is George Mason, beloved son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Mason, of our district. The tragic notification that George was killed came in a war other message to his parents on Friday morning, and only said "killed in action, January 3rd."

Geo. Mason was a true Canadian. He spent most of his young life in Lacombe and had among his friends all who had met him. He was a man, and met his death like a man-fighting for right and liberty. The news was a sad blow to his parents, but the thought that their boy died facing his country's foe will make the burden of grief lighter.

Decased was 22 years old. A brother R. C. Mason, is a member of the same battalion, and with the same regiment in France.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason have the heartfelt sympathy of their many friends in the town and country.

Robert Tucker Has Given His Life

Word has been received of the death in action of Piper R. Tucker of the 72nd Highland Battalion. He enlisted in the 63rd Battalion of Edmonton, but in England joined the Canadian Field Ambulance in order to get to the front and was afterwards transferred to the 72nd Battalion. Piper R. Tucker was a veteran of the South African war. He was very well known here, and had a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. His death was a great loss. He leaves to mourn his loss, a son, four sisters, and two brothers all well known in Lacombe and vicinity.

At the Rex

The Divine Sarah Bernhart is coming to Lacombe, Thursday (tomorrow) evening, and will appear in the famous play of Tristan Bernard, "Jean Dore."

On Saturday and Monday evenings next, the attraction at the Rex will be "Barnacles of Society," featuring Dorothy Davenport and Emory Johnston. This is one of the greatest attractions ever brought to Lacombe, and will be well worth seeing. If you cannot get to this show on Saturday evening, be sure to attend Monday.

Charlie Chaplin, the world's greatest laugh producer, will again be in Lacombe this week, and will make his headquarters at the Rex. On Friday evening he will appear in "The Two Men in a Boat," which is a comedy. "The Two Men in a Boat," said by the city papers to be his greatest effort to date. He is here for only one night and will draw a full house. Owing to the great cost of the Chaplin film, the Rex management is compelled to raise the price for the occasion, and the admission will be

"For two years, I was a victim of Aortic Induration and Gas In The Stomach. It afterwards attacked my Heart and I had pains all over my body, so that I could hardly move around. I tried all kinds of Medicines, but none of them did me any good. At last, I decided to try 'Fruit-a-lives'. I bought the first box last June, and now I am well, after using only three boxes. ## Blackfalds News

Fred Stephens, the famous trap and guide, paid a visit to the Blackfalds gold fields last week. His report was not very favorable.

A patriotic concert and box social, followed by a dance, will be given in the Public Hall on Friday evening 26th inst. Under the auspices of the Red Cross Branch of this place, the Swiss bell ringers will give an entertainment in the public hall on the evening of Feb. 7th. This entertainment will be followed by a dance.

Under auspices of the Dept. of Agriculture, a short course school in agricultural domestic science will be held in Blackfalds on Feb. 27th to 13th, inclusive. Five cars of pure-bred live stock are advertised for demonstration purposes. Lectures will be given on live stock, dairying; also on cooking and house nursing. The department is going to a lot of trouble to apply to the wounded feelings of some of our Blackfalds people, who openly revolted at the treatment meted out to them by the provincial department train on the afternoon of July 7th, last year.

But are we not at the eve of an election and the breaches in political fences must be repaired. The department will do their prettiest on this occasion.

GERMANS SHOW JAUNDICE SIGNS

London, Jan. 16.—The Times publishes the following information, supplied by a neutral who left Germany the end of last month:

"I lost 15 pounds in weight in a month. All the time I was in Germany I saw no butter. Sugar, which is used instead of sugar, effects the gums and causes diarrhoea, as also does the artificial coffee, which is horrible to drink. The people are living mainly on potatoes and fish. The latter comes from Holland and Sweden. A very small fish costs 1s. 6p. A goose is 8s. 5d. per pound. The only thing fit to eat is chocolate. Everyone is showing characteristic signs of jaundice, with a yellowish tinge in the skin and the whites of the eyes. Money will not buy food, and the millionaires are as badly off in that respect as the poor man, but the poor are under the impression that the officials are getting food from Belgium, presumably food intended for the relief of the Belgians. A lady of Dusseldorf, who expressed her belief that, however much people suffered, the burgomaster had enough to eat, received six months imprisonment."

"Very strong anti-Prussian and anti-Berlin feeling is growing out of Prussia. The Prussian authorities are already taking precautions for maintaining Prussia's position after the war. One of the objects of the national service law is to send to the front as many non-Prussian young men as possible, so as to be able to replace and send home the Prussians, to keep Prussians out until the time comes. It is a remarkable fact that in the free city of Hamburg, which has always considered itself very superior to and independent of Berlin, the police are now Prussians. They no doubt are more willing than the natives to suppress any serious riots. At Hamburg the soldiers say nothing will induce them to return to the front."

"Socialism is raising its head wherever it dares to do so. In one well-known district on the Rhine one actually is made to take off one's gloves in a train for to wear gloves is a mark of non-Socialism. Germany is feeling severely the lack of artificial manufacturers. Nitrates made from the air are good only for making nitric acid for munitions purposes, and do not act properly when made into fertilizers for the soil, which is becoming exhausted."

Nearly every real estate loan means that somebody is buying a home, or is making extensive improvements.
Consider what 1,200 such loans made in Canada by the Huron & Erie Mortgage Corporation and the Canada Trust Company each year, mean to the prosperity of the country.
It speaks well for any institution to be chosen in this way by the home-makers—it shows their confidence and good will.

The Cowards Flee

According to an Ottawa dispatch the government is anxious to assure those fearful persons who, living in Canada but not naturalized citizens, are getting across the border to escape a possible conscription. None but British subjects will be subject to compulsory enlistment, if it should ultimately come to that, which the government refuses to admit.

But are the people crossing the border all aliens? Is any considerable number of them, naturalized or other than British subjects? The question is asked because of statements appearing in a "Detroit paper recently. It says: "We welcome the 17,631 Canadians, mostly virile, independent, educated, aggressive, combative, upstanding young men strong in the principles of Christianity and of democratic self-reliance, who have come to Detroit from Ontario and the northwest provinces during the past year."

This is the record of Detroit alone. In December more than a thousand crossed the river from Sarnia to Port Huron, most of them young Canadians of military age and many of them quite willing to admit that they were leaving because they feared conscription. At Sault Ste. Marie in three months over twelve hundred crossed over the border, fully half of whom were Canadian born young men. The record at Niagara Falls crossing point shows a still greater exodus.

Speaking of this phase of the matter the Hamilton Herald says: "Ever since the war started, there has been a steady exodus of men from Ontario into the States. Sons of well-to-do parents in Hamilton quietly disappeared when the recruiting campaign started, their parents having suddenly become aware of the superior advantages offered by the United States educational institutions, or business opportunities which they would be foolish to ignore, having presented themselves."

All this would seem to indicate that it is not the disappearance of the aliens we should fear so much as the exodus of the cravens of our own British stock, who realize if compulsion comes they will be called. It seems a pity they should be allowed to escape. The day may come when they will be needed poor stuff and all as they are.

News From France

In the recent letters from Earl Halpin, he has the following news of interest:

We have been moved again, and are going to spend our Christmas in the trenches. We will be in a quieter part of the line than goodness, nothing like the place we came from; I hope we never go back there again. You can imagine what kind of a place it was when I tell you that the British have sixteen hundred heavy siege guns on the twelve mile front, and as they are never quiet, you can imagine the racket I was in one town over night with a fatigue party, when the Germans shelled it all night. I think by what the German prisoners say that the war will not last long, they are surrendering every chance they get. Lieut. Taylor has been wounded and is now in England. Lieut. Clowes is in our trenches harder than the trenches so some of the boys they ever did before. They pitched everything they had over, and I hope you all had a merry Christmas. Well we sure made the best of it here. We were billeted in an old barn with the roof shot off and we built a big fire in the centre and put straw over the ground. Then we went out and gathered some holly and stuck it in our caps and sat down around the fire and talked of last Christmas and everything else around home. We only had beef and us army food, as we are on the move—but that did not matter. We forgot all about our sore feet back of us—it keeps it up all night. We are getting pretty well broken in to it now, and to be remembered that Bernhardt

Sarah Bernhardt at The Rex

Whether or not Mme. Sarah Bernhardt will be able to make another world tour, she will be in her shadow self, in Blue-bird Photoplays, and the local display of the feature film will now show the house and if he be at the Rex theatre on Thursday, (25th), when "Jeanne Dore" is going on back here he would be the last piece in which she acted. If you notice upon the stage will be shown a quivering in my writing it is caused by the siege gun battery followers are wondering just what the result of her operation will have upon her acting, it is well broken in to it now, and to be remembered that Bernhardt the only kind of shells we not like are those coming from the other direction. Keep on and the news from the good old town.

Squadron Commander and Major H. Le M. Brock, D. S. O., of the Royal Flying Corps, has been gazetted Acting Wing Commander, with the rank of Lieut.-Colonel.
